No. 13
Let's Move Into The New Court With Problems Solved

With our new fraternity court's construction, some problems have now surfaced that have caused us to move into the court. First, the court itself is too narrow to accommodate the students of the three fraternities who have been using the old court. This has resulted in overcrowding and confusion, making it difficult for students to move around and participate in activities.

Secondly, the court is not adequately equipped with facilities such as lighting, tables, and chairs. This has caused inconvenience for the students, who have had to improvise with their own resources.

Lastly, the court's design does not take into account the needs of the different fraternities, leading to conflicts and disagreements among the members.

In conclusion, while the new court provides a much-needed space for the students, it has also highlighted some important issues that need to be addressed in order to ensure its effective use and enjoyment by all.

LETTER TO EDITOR: "Drown, Squeezed, Pushed"

Dear Editor,

The great myth about David C. Driscoll, who presided over the college last year, is that it is hard to sink. But it is hard to drown, as most of the students who expressed their opinion of him in an interview for the softball of 1955 indicate. After all, there were enough problems to go around, even if they were not as obvious as those of the past.

More From The Music Dept.

Davidson College prides itself on its music program, which is one of the finest in the country. The music department is home to a variety of talented musicians, including vocalists, instrumentalists, and composers. The department is well-equipped with state-of-the-art facilities, including a concert hall, recording studio, and practice rooms.

The music program is open to all students, regardless of their major. Students interested in music can participate in a wide range of activities, including private lessons, ensembles, and chamber music groups. The department also offers opportunities for students to perform in public concerts, both on and off campus.

In conclusion, the Davidson College music program is a vibrant and dynamic community of musicians, dedicated to the pursuit of excellence in all aspects of music. Students interested in music are encouraged to explore the opportunities available in the department and to become active members of the Davidson College music community.

LETTER TO EDITOR: A Plea For Negro Students

Dear Editor,

I write this letter to bring attention to the issue of inequity faced by Negro students at Davidson College. Despite their hard work and dedication, many of these students are denied equal opportunities and face significant barriers to academic success.

Firstly, the curriculum and course offerings at the college are not adequately representative of the diverse student body, leading to a lack of exposure to a wide range of perspectives and ideas.

Secondly, the social and cultural life of the college is not inclusive of the experiences and interests of Negro students, resulting in a sense of isolation and alienation.

In conclusion, we call upon the Davidson College administration to take action to address these issues and create a more inclusive and equitable environment for all students. We encourage the college to implement policies and programs that promote diversity and inclusion, and to actively work towards creating a community that is truly representative of the student body.

SCOTT FORESEES IMPROVEMENTS

"With the Southern Conference meet to be here in May, there are several improvements we'll have to make on the track," said coach Scott. "We've got to work on everybody until then in order to be ready for the conference at the end of the year."

One of the most important improvements that the coach feels will be needed is in the high jump. Scott feels that there is a need for more flexibility in the athletes' approach to the bar. Also, there are several improvements we'll have to make in the weightlifting portion of the team's training.

INTRAMURAL FIELDS

Outside of the track meet, Scott cited needs in other areas which should be met as soon as possible. He considered the greatest need to be the improvement of the intramural fields, especially those on the old course. Scott feels that these fields are not used to their full potential and that they could be improved with proper maintenance and equipment.

Possible work on the football field would include grading of the field, and erecting a fence around the field. As to the matter of lighting the tennis courts, Scott replied that the primary reason that this has not been done is that there are no electric lines in that vicinity. He indicated that he was trying to secure lighting for the tennis courts, possibly a move to a paved surface, so that the students would have better lighting. As they played.

SPRING GRID GRIND

Elsewhere around the coaching staff, coach Dave Lampley, named to the team for the second time, expressed his delight in the immediate progress being made. "I think that the team is working very hard and that we are making good progress," he said. "We've got a lot of work to do, but I'm confident that we will make the necessary improvements to be competitive."}

Chapel Hill

By JIM HAMILTON

The Davidson conditions, existing in an unfinished second place to the Bears in the conference standings, have been giving some concern to the Bears. With a 5-2 record, they have been making efforts to strengthen or regain their grasp on the number two rank of the conference ladder tomorrow night as they battle the Bears in Johnston gym.

The Citadel will be a difficult opponent for the Bears, who are currently in the number two rank of the conference. The Bears have a record of 5-2 and have not lost since their defeat by the Bulldogs earlier this season. The Citadel, on the other hand, has a record of 3-4 and is coming off a loss to the Bulldogs.

With both teams hungry for victory, the game is sure to be a fierce contest. The Bears will need to maintain their scoring attack and hold the defense to a minimum in order to secure the win. The Citadel, on the other hand, will need to limit the Bears' scoring opportunities and look for their own offensive opportunities to score.

The game will be held at 8:00 PM at Johnston gym. It is sure to be a thrilling contest and one that will go down in history as one of the most exciting games of the season.
Candidates for admission to the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT) were announced today by Educational Testing Service, which promotes and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges.

The test, required of applicants to almost every medical school in the United States, will be given at many centers throughout the country. Candidates who pass will be eligible for admission to some 50 medical schools in the fall of 1969. Candidates who fail may retake the test later.

The exam will be held on May 2 and 10, 1968. Charges are $7.00 for each test. Those who gave the test before may need to retake it if the scores do not meet the requirements of the schools to which they apply.

PRELIMINARY ROOMS

When asked his opinion on the matter, Mr. Doe said, "I've always advocated a more open system of rooming, but I'm not in favor of it." He added that the problem could be solved by the Senate. He pointed out that some dormitory students are in favor of the proposal to limit the number of students who can share a room, while others are against it.

The legislation, proposed by the Senate Committee on Education, seeks to address overcrowding in the dormitories. It would allow for the possibility of three students sharing a room instead of the current two.

National YMCA Lists Projects

College students seem to register in spring events and vacation time approaches. Over and over again the same question is raised, "What can I do to help in the many projects the local YMCA is involved in?"

The National Student Council recently called for the first time an "open forum" on the YMCA's role and work in the community. This was an attempt to inform students about the interests of the local association. The association is one of the few in the country which has a volunteer staff.

Any student interested in helping the organization should contact the YMCA office for information on the projects the association is involved in. These projects include: the Washington D.C. Student Center, which provides a place for the students to meet and talk; the Washington University Student Center, which offers a place for students to eat and study; and the Washington University Student Center, which gives a place for students to relax and socialize.

EDUCATION IN NEW AGE

The idea that education in the new age must be based on four principles is not new. The concept was described 17 years ago in Sputnik. The launching of the Space Age by the United States and Russia has caused educators to rethink the teaching of the past.

A new program for the next school year will be based on these principles:

1. The need for a new curriculum that meets the needs of the time.
2. The need for new teaching methods that are more effective.
3. The need for new evaluation methods that are more accurate.
4. The need for new textbooks that are more relevant.
