BREAK

The mid-week break this week will feature the newest and most-recently formed music group on campus — a combo. Producing sounds from two guitars, a piano, and drums will be Hub Knox, Tom Anderson, John Prantley, and Tom Greene, respectively. Knox, a new professional in his own right, comes from Millington, New Jersey; and Anderson hails from Petersburg, Virginia. Florida produces one-half of this group, with Prantley being from Miami and Greene from Neptune Beach.

Rounding out the evening's enjoyment will be two repeaters — food and girls. In the food category will be hot dogs and coles; and while enjoying these, those in attendance can also benefit from the association of our fraulein guests.

Two Texan Tales —

(Enjoy them while you can. They will soon be replaced by Alaskan tales..)

A Texan was telling about teaching his son to drive one of the family Cadillacs. "But, Tex," interrupted a friend, "your boy is only ten." "Shucks, Ah know that," was the reply. "That's why Ah only let Ah drive in the house!"

And did you hear about the six-year-old Texan who pledged $100 a week to his church school? Sure that the lad did not understand what he was doing, a member of the canvassing committee called on the parents. "Oh, yes," the father assured him, "it's perfectly in order. We insist that the boy tithe."
