

WELCOME

Welcome to Davidson Summer Session and to the beautiful and peaceful setting of our modest Williamsburg campus. Relax and enjoy the fruitful summer months before you, make yourself at home in your quaint old classrooms, your aromatic labs, and your little lonely dormitory lodgings.

Now if the editors may be allowed to speak a few words of advice, gleaned from long and arduous sessions of study over the years, let us caution you - do not overstudy. Don't spend all your waking minutes pouring over the books, don't go back for too many after hours classes, tear yourselves away from the feverish tete-a-tetes, the long and heated discussions with your professors; play a little, students, it's good for you.

You can find the greatest opportunity for recreation right here at your good old College Union. Yes, come to us for a little fun and relaxation, read our comics, enjoy the thrill of the sports world, take this opportunity to cultivate agility and coordination in games of pool and ping pong, become proficient in Monopoly, Scrabble, and Clue...sip the cool, refreshing wines of our snack bar.

We urge you to take a few minutes every day or two and come to the Union. We think you'll enjoy yourself -- and those you meet here...

COMING MOVIES:

Friday, Sat., June 19 and 20, "All My Sons" with Edward G. Robinson, Burt Lancaster

Friday, Sat., June 26 and 27, "Odd Man Out" with James Mason, Robert Newton

COLLEGE UNION TERRACE AT 9:00

CHEERIO, CHRIS

Have you ever stopped to think who is responsible for the food you consume three times a day--two times a day, you sack-hounds! Well, part of the praise, or the blame, goes to a smiling Englishman whose ready ear and pleasant manner helps to keep things running in the inner recesses of the cafeteria.

Mr. Christopher Hayselden has had long and varied training for his present position as assistant manager of the college cafeteria. He grew up in Yorkshire, Eng., where he learned to bake biscuits (cookies to us) and to cook one of England's national dishes, fish 'n chips. In 1937 while still a teenager he joined His Majesty's Royal Air Force to see the world. This tour made him an expert on various things including the back alleys of Baghdad and Bombay.

What concerns us more is the broadening of his culinary art by the addition of such exotic dishes as buffalo à la Bombay, Casablanca corn pone, and Delhi delight (creamed silk worms on toast!) His experiences in Northern Ireland and Canada have added ever greater variety to his cooking repertoire.

We want to express our sincere appreciation to Mr. Hayselden for his friendliness. We feel that his departure next week will be a loss to all of us, for we will miss the British spice in our Greek pudding.

PERSONALITIES

Look around you a bit every once in a while, enjoy the fascinating people which pervade the college campus this summer. I'm sure our friends here will forgive us if we allow ourselves to introduce to our readers some of the more famous men who have come back this session to share their friendly little eccentricities with the rest of us.

Take Hog, for instance. He'll be glad to engage anyone with the necessary qualifications in a good ol' Coke drinking contest in the cafeteria...And Combat Kelly - it's confidential but we understand that he's been asked to take Cop Linker's position during his vacation...Daugherty's green hornet taxi service...Rembrant Redding's 68th work in oil to the same girl...Nabcock, the Wanderer, quoting Macbeth to Dr. Crawford.. Wells Garden's expressed relief that there's no Court of Control in summer school...Smoothy Miller, snowed of the high school set, rescued by cops from beach jives...Al Andrews Alder taking bum rap from beach police...General Garvin opening bootleg dispensary on campus in absence of functional infirmary... Graham and Butch coming at last into the open from the confines of the science building, see the Dana foundations for the first time...Honest Henry Neale's: Disconnected speedometer - will travel... Kirkpatrick, giving advice to lovelorn teens hopefuls, and anyone else, incidentally...Haffaker returning to run hill on rotation basis during administration vacations...Armfield, cooperating with Wilder, runs longest chapel of session... Paul Franson, the man in the long black beard...C. Shaw Smooth opens art gallery in office...

SYNOD YOUNG PEOPLE DUE IN MONDAY

Next week Davidson College plays host to the North Carolina Presbyterian young people. Approximately 300 boys and girls ranging from high school juniors to College sophomores will meet here for religious study and recreation.

Rev. Russell Kerr, pastor of Philadelphia Presbyterian Church, Charlotte, will direct the conference activities, and the principal speakers will be Drs. Ben Lacy Rose, Lee Stoffel and Frank Hall.

Registration is scheduled for Monday afternoon and the young people will leave our campus after breakfast on Saturday.

You might find the following helpful:
