Waring Initiates "Y" Series On Segregation-Integration

Doug Clark's Cool Rhythm Highlights Holiday Soiree

On December 17, the Thursday before the holidays, the College Union will sponsor its annual open house for the student body. With activity flourishing on all three floors, the varied program for the event will offer something for everyone.

For the first feature of the evening, the Jazzmen will contrive Doug Clark's combo, known as the "Hot Bop," which will make its first formal appearance popular even among the most seasoned ear. A total of seven numbers will be featured, starting at 7:30 pm.

In the cafeteria downstairs, theCaldecott Club will serve punch and cake.

“Jum” Kirkpatrick will be the master of ceremonies for the event.

The second floor will be easier on the eye and ear. Where the first floor is in black and white, and the third floor is in colored lights, the second floor will have a warm and inviting glow for the audience.

At the sixth social hour, the "Y" Committee and the College Union will host an "Open House" at the college Union. The event will be open to the floor and the students will be encouraged to attend.

The "Y" Committee and the College Union have prepared a variety of activities and refreshments for the evening. Among the highlights are:

- A performance by the Jazzmen
- A dance party
- A raffle for a chance to win a trip to Europe
- A poetry reading by members of the "Y" Committee

The event will begin at 8:30 pm and continue until 11:30 pm.

By G. L. Abernethy, Professor of Philosophy

Editor's note: This article is adapted from a speech given last week by Professor Abernethy to the public on campus.

Abernethy has spent a good deal of time recently studying the academic life of the university, an event that he and others have recognized as a problem in need of solution. While he did not go so far as to explain what the solution might be, he did outline the nature of the problem.

The University of Davidson has a great deal of opportunity to be a place of excellence. It is a university whose students are college educated and who are likely to take this opportunity to clear up a few of the facts.

The main understanding seems to be in Dr. Abernethy's statement of the problem: "The University of Davidson knows how to extend unlimited cut privileges to those students who believe in the policies of the Administration and who have good grades. If this is true, why are there so many students unhappy with the system?"

Abernethy's solution is: "It has been obvious for some time that unlimited cut privileges are being given to those students who are the best students. If this is true, why are there so many students unhappy with the system?"

Abernethy concludes: "These facts have been obvious for some time, and it is manifestly unfair for unlimited cut privileges to be given to those students who are not the best students."

NOTICE TO READERS:

Dr. Abernethy states, "the idea of unlimited cut privileges and liberal cut system is, at this time, our opportunity to clarify our policies."

In this spirit, the University of Davidson has prepared a series of proposals for discussion by the student body. These proposals are designed to clarify our policies and to provide a framework for future discussion. We encourage all students to attend these meetings and to participate in the discussion. We believe that through this open and transparent process, we can work together to create a better future for all of our students.
Cats Host King Tomorrow

Vols Trample Cougar
For First Setback

Davidson's young Wildcats will be gunning for revenge tomorrow afternoon when they host the University of Tennessee at Kimmel Field. The Cats will be looking to break the 0-1 skid that they carried into their game against South Carolina last Saturday afternoon.

The Volunteers, a team that has been plagued by injuries and poor defense, will be a formidable opponent. In last year's meeting, the Wildcats were able to hold the Volunteers to just 7 points, but they were outscored 13-10. Davidson was led by quarterback Bill McGhee, who threw for 241 yards and 2 touchdowns, and running back Tommy Hunt, who gained 130 yards on 18 carries.

This year, the Wildcats will have to contend with Vols quarterback Steve Smith, who led the team in passing with 141 yards, and running back Paul Smith, who gained 104 yards on 16 carries. The Wildcats will also have to be wary of the Volunteers' strong defense, which has allowed just 13 points per game.

The game will be a battle of two teams that are determined to prove their worth. The Wildcats will be looking to get their first win of the season, while the Volunteers will be hoping to turn their season around.

Kickoff is scheduled for 2:00 PM at Kimmel Field in Davidson.
After Vesper Opens Houses

A Civic Defense practice conducted at Vesper Houses.

Mrs. Horace A. Alexander, chairman of the Civic Defense Committee, said the civic defense organization is ready to be called into service.

A night of safety and security is the aims of the organization, which consists of individuals who are trained in first aid and other emergency procedures.

The organization is made up of volunteers who are willing to provide assistance in case of emergency. They are trained to respond quickly and effectively to situations that may arise.

The civic defense organization is part of a larger network of emergency services that includes law enforcement, fire departments, and other governmental agencies.

Mrs. Alexander said that the organization is ready to respond to any emergency that may arise, whether it be a medical emergency, a natural disaster, or any other type of emergency.

She encouraged all citizens to be aware of the services available and to be prepared to respond in case of need.

The organization is always looking for new members who are interested in helping their community.

For more information, contact Mrs. Alexander or any of the volunteers who are trained in emergency procedures.

Vesper Features Professor McIIl

Professor McIIl is speaking on the importance of civic defense.

He discussed the role of citizens in the community and the need for cooperation and preparedness in times of crisis.

He emphasized the importance of having a strong network of emergency services and the need for individuals to be prepared to respond.

The discussion was well received by the attendees, who were encouraged to be vigilant and to stay informed about the latest developments in civic defense.

The lecture was followed by a question-and-answer session, which provided an opportunity for attendees to ask further questions and to gain a deeper understanding of the subject.

The professor concluded by urging the community to stay informed and to be prepared to respond in case of need.

For more information, contact Professor McIIl or any of the volunteers who are involved in civic defense.

Christian Hospital: Post In Midst Of Buddhism

Operating room equipment from Germany, financed by an American college, used by a non-denominational Christian church in a Buddhist nation: this is the great amalgamation of tradition and progress that is Christian Hospital.

The hospital has its beginning in 1963 with Protestant missionaries in Thailand’s capital city. After many years of service, the hospital is now known as Buddhist Christian Hospital. The nurses and doctors of the hospital are now Buddhist.

To the new arrivals, it is a great comfort to know that the hospital is run by a Christian organization.

The hospital has a staff of 100, including 30 nurses and doctors, and is open to all, regardless of religion or nationality.

The hospital is located in the center of Bangkok, near many of the country’s most important Buddhist temples.

The hospital is open from 08:00 to 16:00 Monday to Friday, and from 08:00 to 12:00 on Saturday.

The hospital is supported by a large international fund, and is open to all, regardless of religion or nationality.

The hospital is unique in its attempt to bring together the best of both worlds, the traditional Buddhist culture and the western medical knowledge.

The hospital is a great example of how the two cultures can live side by side, and how they can learn from each other.
