Five Presidential Aspirants
Debate In Monday Chapel

A majority of Davidson's seniors nominated for student body president Tuesday. The five students in contention will continue using this method until the last minute.

Students will meet one of the three Thursday evenings, and will continue using this method until the last minute.

Five Presidential Aspirants
Debate In Monday Chapel

A majority of Davidson's seniors nominated for student body president Tuesday. The five students in contention will continue using this method until the last minute.

Students will meet one of the three Thursday evenings, and will continue using this method until the last minute.

Five Presidential Aspirants
Debate In Monday Chapel

A majority of Davidson's seniors nominated for student body president Tuesday. The five students in contention will continue using this method until the last minute.

Students will meet one of the three Thursday evenings, and will continue using this method until the last minute.

Five Presidential Aspirants
Debate In Monday Chapel

A majority of Davidson's seniors nominated for student body president Tuesday. The five students in contention will continue using this method until the last minute.

Students will meet one of the three Thursday evenings, and will continue using this method until the last minute.

Five Presidential Aspirants
Debate In Monday Chapel

A majority of Davidson's seniors nominated for student body president Tuesday. The five students in contention will continue using this method until the last minute.

Students will meet one of the three Thursday evenings, and will continue using this method until the last minute.

Five Presidential Aspirants
Debate In Monday Chapel

A majority of Davidson's seniors nominated for student body president Tuesday. The five students in contention will continue using this method until the last minute.

Students will meet one of the three Thursday evenings, and will continue using this method until the last minute.

Five Presidential Aspirants
Debate In Monday Chapel

A majority of Davidson's seniors nominated for student body president Tuesday. The five students in contention will continue using this method until the last minute.

Students will meet one of the three Thursday evenings, and will continue using this method until the last minute.

Five Presidential Aspirants
Debate In Monday Chapel

A majority of Davidson's seniors nominated for student body president Tuesday. The five students in contention will continue using this method until the last minute.

Students will meet one of the three Thursday evenings, and will continue using this method until the last minute.
A Shift Of Emphasis

Hugh Cannon, 33, ex-Minneapolis Scholar, raised a little stink here last Tuesday. The slick had been rooting for deenahther for that couldn’t quite be said. In his con, canon, pacifying nonexistent Masons, and saying that education is a little sick, and be to be perfecting about it, it’s going to take a good bit of money to make it well.

Cannon summed up what THE WEEKLY did not do because of your professors, but he added another Davidson. Cannon did not have enough in the open market.

He pointed out that Davidson likes to compare itself to the likes of Williams, Amherst, Oberlin and heathenics — but Davidson can’t compare with these schools in the amount the pays her students.

It is true that facility your people here has several times in the last few years. It is also true that in the past, has ranked close to the best liberal arts college in the South. But it is true that religious or liberal arts schools are in the South. It reads as follows: religious arts schools are there to pull down the average.

We’ve not heard Davidson officials state that it is the one to be as good as Emory, Catawba or LaSalle.

For really fine teachers, Cannon must compete not only with the “best liberal arts colleges in the South,” but with the state-supported schools and a few of the liberal arts colleges in the East. It’s a tough battle.

It is reported that upwards of $400,000 was the bottom line of the battle for professorship with Professor W. J. Johnson admitted to Hugh Cannon that if he offered $400,000, it would help.

The need applies not only to ar-curing the best professors for the good men for teachers, we must face

the problem of how to get it. I am suggested that we had put too much emphasis on the idea of mak- ing

the buildings are the buildings — it’s too late to tear them down and we can’t sell them.

But Cannon had a point. Davidson has perhaps put too much importance on the buildings.

We do not accuse the administration of stinting off in the area of hetural education, but there has been a concentrated building program in progress.

We do feel, however, that it is high time for the college to start the process of making education the foremost. More buildings are being planned at present — we don’t need any more buildings. We need better teachers and more teachers.

On Campus Reaction

An election means always interesting journalistic comments and observations — but also something between the dangerous ground of political controversies.

Tradition calls for a year of re-affecting “The Nation,” “The In-night,” too, and “The Saturday Re-

of found out in favor of intellectual De-

a graduate of the same college.

By anyone’s standards this has

This has been a year of per-tant controversy. It has been a year of promitment. It has been a year of endless dis-ignorant. It has been a year of

There is a direct relationship of leadership in capable student hands.

We want some more of the same.

We do not contest that change is inevitable, but we do want to maintain that one should follow the path of progress with an eye onward toward improve-

it. Change is the one constant in life and serves as an excellent case in point.

Through a mature approach to
to pass bad legislation as good legislative. But Stanely members are better informed about the merits of a proposed bill than a student who can vote more intelligently than the average

Are we willing to take the chance

that the Student Council will pass constitutional legislation?

We favor its passage.

Throughout the effectiveness of the revised constitution. It will be the function of the Student Council may adopt by a two-thirds vote the entire council to lead

as shall not be in conflict with this Herein is the test.

Under the present constitution it is impossible for the Student Council to make a realistic affirmative vote by the student body to be an excuse for not weakening the power of the Student Council. It is realized that the new constitution is sometimes even defeatists, constructivists.

We realize that Article X gives the Student Council as much power as possible through discussion and investigation, the Council has produced and approved several important propositions.

Through continuous self-ex-

amnats, the Student Council has promised to reverse its action on three important issues, and is developing the ma-

tral rule of recognizing its own ministry and doing something about it.

Nur we believe that the vig-

ous creativeness and concern with the key to success. But we do feel that vigorous leadership and self-chall an on the way toward successful student government.

We hope that the candidates —

not just in the race this year, but in the future, will be a part of the student body, but not at all in the elections — will approach all issues maturely, imaginatively and vigorously. But as years past, the candidates must understand the possibilities. We only need the leaders to point out the possibilities.

As we hope for the best from the candidates, we likewise hope for the best from the faculty. It is our judgment of the student body in the conduct of officers for the com-

ning year.

T. B. C.

A Gamble With The Council

Next Thursday the Student Body will vote on an amendment to the Student Body Constitution. A two-thirds vote is necessary to pass the proposed constitution.

We favor its passage.

Several months ago, while in the process of writing an editorial to this effect, it was suggested by some of the columnists that the Student Council be abolished.

We would like to take the chance

that the Student Council will pass constitutional legislation.

We are willing to take the chance

that the Student Council will pass constitutional legislation.

We favor its passage.

The body of the constitution has been shortened and the articles concerning the Student Free Speech and Press Freedom Club have been placed in the Council.

This is due to the fact that the under direct control of the council and can be made a more realistic vote by the student body.

We realize that Article X gives the Student Council as much power as possible through discussion and investigation, the Council has produced and approved several important propositions.

Through continuous self-ex-

amnats, the Student Council has

promised to reverse its action on three important issues, and is developing the ma-

tral rule of recognizing its own ministry and doing something about it.

Nur we believe that the vig-

ous creativeness and concern with the

key to success. But we do feel that vigorous leadership and self-chall

an on the way toward successful student government.

We hope that the candidates —

not just in the race this year, but in the future, will be a part of the student body, but not at all in the elections — will approach all issues maturely, imaginatively and vigorously. But as years past, the candidates must understand the possibilities. We only need the leaders to point out the possibilities.

As we hope for the best from the candidates, we likewise hope for the best from the faculty. It is our judgment of the student body in the conduct of officers for the com-

ning year.

T. B. C.

Letters to the Editors

Careless Remark Could Do Damage

Commentary: William B. Milliken

Dear Editor:

While writing the recent much lauded "The Man from N.Y.", I came to the section of the book that deals with the news profession. I found that the author, Mr. De Mers, had referred to our Davidson student, William B. Milliken, in a careless manner.

Mr. De Mers, in a mattress with which we were not familiar, referred to Mr. Milliken as a "casual reader of the world's news," and in a manner that was not entirely flattering to the student.

I could not help thinking that at the time of what he had written that the reader should have been more careful in his research, and that he should have sought full access to the facts before making such statements about Davidson students.

The body of the constitution has been shortened and the articles concerning the Student Free Speech and Press Freedom Club have been placed in the Council.

This is due to the fact that the under direct control of the council and can be made a more realistic vote by the student body.

We realize that Article X gives the Student Council as much power as possible through discussion and investigation, the Council has produced and approved several important propositions.

Through continuous self-ex-

amnats, the Student Council has

promised to reverse its action on three important issues, and is developing the ma-

tral rule of recognizing its own ministry and doing something about it.

Nur we believe that the vig-

ous creativeness and concern with the

key to success. But we do feel that vigorous leadership and self-chall

an on the way toward successful student government.

We hope that the candidates —

not just in the race this year, but in the future, will be a part of the student body, but not at all in the elections — will approach all issues maturely, imaginatively and vigorously. But as years past, the candidates must understand the possibilities. We only need the leaders to point out the possibilities.

As we hope for the best from the candidates, we likewise hope for the best from the faculty. It is our judgment of the student body in the conduct of officers for the com-

ning year.

T. B. C.

A Gamble With The Council

Next Thursday the Student Body will vote on an amendment to the Student Body Constitution. A two-thirds vote is necessary to pass the proposed constitution.

We favor its passage.

Several months ago, while in the process of writing an editorial to this effect, it was suggested by some of the columnists that the Student Council be abolished.

We would like to take the chance

that the Student Council will pass constitutional legislation.

We are willing to take the chance

that the Student Council will pass constitutional legislation.

The body of the constitution has been shortened and the articles concerning the Student Free Speech and Press Freedom Club have been placed in the Council.

This is due to the fact that the under direct control of the council and can be made a more realistic vote by the student body.

We realize that Article X gives the Student Council as much power as possible through discussion and investigation, the Council has produced and approved several important propositions.

Through continuous self-ex-

amnats, the Student Council has

promised to reverse its action on three important issues, and is developing the ma-

tral rule of recognizing its own ministry and doing something about it.

Nur we believe that the vig-

ous creativeness and concern with the

key to success. But we do feel that vigorous leadership and self-chall

an on the way toward successful student government.

We hope that the candidates —

not just in the race this year, but in the future, will be a part of the student body, but not at all in the elections — will approach all issues maturely, imaginatively and vigorously. But as years past, the candidates must understand the possibilities. We only need the leaders to point out the possibilities.

As we hope for the best from the candidates, we likewise hope for the best from the faculty. It is our judgment of the student body in the conduct of officers for the com-

ning year.

T. B. C.
Sideline Comments

BY STEVE CLARK

Levy And Attitude Sum It Up

The Wildcats entered last Saturday night's game with an attitude of being more interested in the outcome of the game than in the performance of themselves. The result was a 75-70 loss to North Carolina State.

The Wildcats entered the game with a 13-6 record, but their performance was more indicative of a team that was not interested in the game. The Wildcats were outscored by 13 points in the first half and were never able to mount a comeback.

Despite the loss, the Wildcats are still in contention for the Southern Conference title. They have a three-game lead over the second-place team and are currently in fourth place in the conference standings.

Dole, the Wildcats' leading scorer, was held to just 10 points. He had at least 15 points in each of the Wildcats last five games.

The Wildcats' loss drops them to fourth place in the conference standings, but they are still in contention for the title. They have one game left against the second-place team, and a win could secure them the championship.

The Wildcats' season comes to an end on Saturday, March 16, against the first-place team. A win could secure them the championship, but a loss would mean they would have to win both of their remaining games to claim the title.

In other news, the Bulldogs announced that they would be hosting a 5K race on Saturday, March 16, to benefit the local homeless shelter. The race is expected to draw over 100 participants, and the proceeds will be used to help provide services to those in need.

The race begins at 9 a.m. and will wind through the city's downtown area. Runners are encouraged to register in advance to ensure a spot in the race. Registration can be completed online at the Bulldogs' website.

The Bulldogs are also hosting a fundraising event on Friday, March 15, to benefit the local food bank. The event is a benefit concert featuring local musicians and will be held at the city's community center. Admission is free, but donations are encouraged. The proceeds will be used to help provide food to those in need.
Candidates Set Forth Views

The vanguard Play Contest will be held March 13 and 14 in Chamberlin Auditorium. The Vanguard Play will be performed by the Phi Delta, while the Pi Delta will be performed with a different cast in December.

Dr. Gunderson, who directed "The Lay Son," a student-developed play, said he had no complaints with the performance.

The Vanguard Play will be sponsored by the Phi Delta and David M. Waddell, member of the Phi Delta, said he plans to put on the play next year.

The Pi Delta will present the play "These Dear and Wholesome Words" written by Deseret Book Co. and the Vanguard Play will be presented by the Phi Delta and David M. Waddell, members of the Phi Delta.

Other Vanguard plays being performed include 'Til We Meet Again, by Robert Meeker, and The Secret of the Slumbering City, by the Phi Delta.

The Phi Delta will present the play "These Dear and Wholesome Words" written by Deseret Book Co. and the Vanguard Play will be presented by the Phi Delta and David M. Waddell, members of the Phi Delta.

The Phi Delta will present the play "These Dear and Wholesome Words" written by Deseret Book Co. and the Vanguard Play will be presented by the Phi Delta and David M. Waddell, members of the Phi Delta.

The Phi Delta will present the play "These Dear and Wholesome Words" written by Deseret Book Co. and the Vanguard Play will be presented by the Phi Delta and David M. Waddell, members of the Phi Delta.

The Phi Delta will present the play "These Dear and Wholesome Words" written by Deseret Book Co. and the Vanguard Play will be presented by the Phi Delta and David M. Waddell, members of the Phi Delta.