HOME NOTES.

Many commencement dots are necessarily deferred until next week.

The moon rises very late now, and the street lamps are very convenient to the traveling public.

Somewhere a big pile of money was lost from a register be, between this place and Richmond, Va. We will have more to say about it next week.

An interesting letter has been received from our regular Brooklyn correspondent, and will be published next week.

Mr. Haughton, the express messenger on the A. T. & O. road, has been transferred to another road, and his place filled by Mr. Morrison of Statesville.

MOORESVILLE NOTES.

Cor. of the Enterprise.

While a Mr. Means was driving out of town Thursday, the horse which he was driving, became frightened and threw him out of the buggy. His head was dashed against a fence, and several severe wounds were inflicted thereby.

Prof. A. Lesser is teaching in the Normal School at Chapel Hill.

Mr. J. C. McNeely, of this place, recently graduated in eleven weeks at King's Mountain Business College. This is the shortest time we are told, that is on record at the College.

There are several severe cases of sickness in town.

Mr. Tom Hall has opened an ice cream and lemonade saloon in town.

GRAND SOCIAL EVENT.

How Thursday Night Was Spent at the Society Halls---How Some of the Ladies Were Dressed.

Although the commencement exercises were over Thursday morning, still, to the young people at least, the best was yet to come. The delightful chats, promenades and so forth, are considered by some to be the most enjoyable feature of commencement. The rain which came up about 9 o'clock partially reduced the pleasures of the evening, but the ladies seemed to defy the elements, and scarcely noticed the rain at all. A great many elegant costumes were worn, and although we are not experienced in that line of reporting, with the help of a lady friend, we will mention a few of them.

Miss Williams, of Fayetteville, wore a shrimpink satin, with garnet velvet and lace, diamond ornaments.

Miss Alice Wilsen, of Morganton, white satin, duchesse point, hand painted, diamond ornaments.

Miss Janie Williams, of Fayetteville, white brocaded satin and lace, pearl ornaments.

Miss Marchison, of Fayetteville, ox-blood satin and lace, diamond ornaments.

Miss Minnie Holper, of Davidson College; lovely muslin and white lace, pearl ornaments.

Miss Stewart, of Cincinnati, Ohio; cream-colored nuns' veiling and lace, diamond ornaments.

Miss Williams, of Wilmington; white satin and lace, diamond ornaments.

Miss Dowd, of Charlotte, shrimpink, brocade satin, hand embroidered, trimmed with lace.

A large number of ladies wore beautiful tulles and lawn dresses, with gold ornaments.

The fortunate recipients of the marshals regalia are named below, together with the names of the marshals:

Mr. Shepherd Nash presented the handsome chief marshals regalia to Miss Janie Williams, of Fayetteville. Mr. D. Jennings presented his regalia to Miss Minnie Holper, of Davidson College. Mr. W. S. Blakney, to Miss Lillia Miller of Charlotte. Mr. R. D. Rosa, to Miss Lola Spencer of Charlotte. Mr. W. M. Morris, to Miss Nannie Dowd of Charlotte. Mr. A. E. Fitzer, to Miss Kate Stewart of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Williamson, to Miss Julia Dowd of Charlotte, and Mr. W. P. Faison, to Miss Marchison of Fayetteville.

It was not until long after midnight, that the party broke up and the ladies went home.

Davidson is ahead. A visitor at the recent commencement here, drank 37 glasses of soda water in one day, by actual count.

Mr. F. W. Potts is cataloging near Bethel Church.

THE CLOSING EXERCISES.

The Forty-sixth Collegiate Year of Davidson College, Comes to a Successful Termination.—The Exercises Thursday Morning.

Long before the closing exercises of the College year were begun, last Thursday, numbers of people had arrived from the surrounding country, and the trains from Charlotte and Statesville brought many more. At 11 o'clock the procession of Trustees, Faculty and students, headed by the Salem band, marched to the commencement hall. The large hall was already nearly full, and the students and others who formed the procession completely filled it. Every available seat was occupied, and a large number was obliged to stand. The following is the programme which was exactly carried out:

Oration—Lord Byron, Richard W. Culbertson, Woodleaf, N. C.

Philosophical Oration—The Planet Mars, Willie N. Mebane, Greensboro, N. C.

The Presentation of Prizes, Degrees Conferred.

Valedictory Oration—The

orators were very fine indeed.

The speech of Mr. L. W. Dick was especially spoken of by those competent to judge, as being very fine.

Gov. Jarvis was present, and and had consented to deliver the medals. The names of the successful competitors for the Latin, Greek and mathematics medals were already known to the public, but the contest for the oratory medal had taken place Wednesday night, and the committee appointed to determine the merits of the speeches had not announced their decision. When Dr. Hepburn announced that the prize had been awarded to Mr. B. T. Wilson, of Maysville, S. C., the applause was deafening. Gov. Jarvis, after a few remarks, presented the prizes as follows:

Holt Medal—Greek, E. B. McGilvary, Chincin Mai, Siam.

Fowler Medal—Oratory, Benj. F. Wilson, Maysville, S. C.

HONOR ROLL.

The Honor Roll, of those who have attained the “First Honor” Grade, for 1882-83, was read by the President as follows:

IN MEMORIAM.

EUMENIAN HALL,
DAVIDSON COLLEGE,
June 12th, 1883.

The Eumenian Society assembled this evening and adopted the following:

WHEREAS, God, in His Providence, has come into our midst, and laid His afflicting hand upon us, in removing by death our loved friend, fellow student and brother Eumenian, T. B. Mikkell, we, as a society, would offer as the last tribute of our love and admiration, these resolutions:

Resolved, 1st, That, although but months ago we bade farewell to our lamented brother because one of our number, still, this brief time has been sufficient to cause a happy change to spring up that attachment for him which we feel so strongly that we are called upon to give him up.

2nd, That while we miss him and mourn his loss as a friend and companion, as a society, we have sustained the loss of one of her most valuable members. His prompt discharge of all duties, his active interest in her welfare made him one whom the society delighted to honor, and in calling him recently to one of her high offices, she had no doubt but "began to plant" him.

3rd, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved family in this time of their sore affliction, and would remind them of the hope that comforts us through all this trying time—the hope that He has given us of "His beloved sleep.

4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and also that they be published in the PHILANTHROPIC HALL, (Chairman.

June 13th, 1883.

At a called meeting of the Philanthropic Society, the following resolutions
were adopted:

WHEREAS, The angel of death has magnified its power, and presence, and has removed our esteemed fellow student and friend, T. B. Mikkell, in the bright morning of life to the confines of another world. Be it therefore

Resolved, 1st, That while we daily mourn our loss, while we know that his charming face and genial smile will no longer be seen in our midst, while he cannot again come to us, yet, we adore him and feel with the heart thatEnabled in love, and weekly bow to this dispensation of His will.

2nd, That in this affliction we have received a solemn warning to "keep our lamps trimmed and burning—
For in such an hour as we think not the Son of Man cometh."

3rd, That while we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and relatives of the deceased, we hope that "their loss is He eternal gain," and that the star which to us has had its setting has already risen in glory.

4th, That we extend to our sister society our heartfelt sympathy in this time of trouble, and hope that she may find some comfort in remembering that "God doth all things well."

5th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and also that they be published in the Charleston Journal-Observer, the Sumter Presbyterian, North Carolina Presbyterian, Sumter Watchman and Southward, and the Davidson College Enterprise.
