HOME NOTES.

A letter from our Mooresville correspondent is published elsewhere.

The sale of the runaway barber's personal effects will take place on Saturday next, June 9th.

The New York Herald has telegraphed to Dr. Hepburn for a full account of the commencement exercises here.

The schools conducted by Miss Lucy Jurney and Miss Louis Anderson were closed on Friday last.

We have been unable to obtain any definite information about the running of the trains at Commencement.

Instead of the cup offered by former graduating classes of this college, the class of '83 has offered a $25 baby carriage.

Rev. Dr. Hepburn was absent last Sunday, having gone to Chapel Hill to preach the Baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the University.

In a match game of base ball between South Carolina students and those from other States, the former were beaten by a score of 19 to 23.

The Last Meeting
Of the Oratorical Club was held last Saturday night. On account of the sickness of some of the speakers, only three orations were delivered. These were by W. R. Grey, subject, Wyckliffe; H. H. Leory, subject, The Resignation of the Ottomans from Vienna; and Wm. Maek, subject, Pulham, Alabama's great cannoner.

The Commencement Enterprise
The Enterprise for June 22, as per announcement elsewhere, will contain an account of the oration by Col. Bennett H. Young, and also of the orations of the representatives, on Wednesday night. The paper will be ready for distribution by Thursday evening at 5 o'clock.

FOR PARTS UNKNOWN.

The Barber Skipped, Leaving Behind him a bad Reputation and his Tools.

Several months ago Mr. E. B. Sloan missed half a dozen pairs of shoes from his store, and the circumstances seemed to point to Edwin Taylor, the barber, as the guilty party. Of course, Taylor stoutly denied the charge, and the matter was dropped. Last week, however, a colored man informed Mr. Sloan that some Charlotte barbers had told him that Taylor had sent six pairs of shoes to them and instructed them to get rid of the articles at almost any price. Mr. Sloan went over to Charlotte, on Friday last, to investigate the matter, and found that the evidence of the colored man was true, and obtained several pairs of shoes; some of them as good as ever, and others half worn out. On Mr. Sloan's return he found that Taylor had skipped. No information was obtained of the missing barber until Mr. Howard, a resident of Denver, who came here Saturday, said that he had met him on the road near Denver, walking toward that place.

The barber, as might have been expected, left several unpaid bills behind, among them being an advertising bill due the Enterprise. He also owed several of the merchants, including Mr. Jas. Allison. That gentleman and the Enterprise immediately took out attachments on his property; which consisted of a barber's chair, mirror, trunk containing a few articles of clothing, razors, &c.

THE NEW POSTMASTER.

Takes Charge of the Postoffice—What he says About his Appointment, &c.

Mr. Jas. H. Gouger, the recently appointed postmaster for this place, took formal charge of the office on Friday last, the first of June.

"It's your business to gather news," said Mr. Gouger to the ENTERPRISE representative, when the latter called on him the other day. "Can you tell me whether the people who have been trying to prevent me getting the postoffice have given it up as a bad job?"

"I do not see," continued Mr. Gouger, "why both whites and blacks are fighting against me; I do not think that I have done any one an injury in this matter."

"But," said the reporter, "some people think that you had to compromise some of your political views in order to get the office."

To this Mr. Gouger replied that he now holds the same political views which he has held and advocated for the past two years. He said that he thought it to be his privilege, in this free country, to change his views on any subject without consulting anybody. If he changed his views two or three years ago, he gave no reason for so doing.

Of course no one denies that Mr. Gouger, or any other man, has a perfect right to change his views at pleasure, but if a man does so, he must expect all the opposition which his former party can give him in his future political life.

MOORESVILLE NOTES.

Correspondence of the Enterprise.

Prof. S. Frontis closed his school term, last Friday. Miss Mamie Barretts school was closed on the same day.

Services were held for the first time in the new Baptist church last Thursday night.

Rev. P. T. Penick has been confined to his rooms for several weeks past.

Quite a number of our citizens attended Miss Sally J. Jermyn's entertainment Friday night. They were well pleased with it.

A passenger on the A. T. & O train, Friday evening, having imbibed to much liquor, stopped over to take in the town. After paying a fine for a disturbance and spending a rather uncomfortable night in the lock-up, he left the next morning.

After two years absence, Misses Maggie and Estelle Houston have returned from Tupelo, Miss.

WAKING UP.
The Town Awakes from its Rip Van Winkle sleep, and the Commissioners Start the Ball Rolling by Various Improvements—Street Lamps, Rock and a Guard House.

Although the new Board of Commissioners have only been in power one short month, they have already done more towards improving the appearance and convenience of the place than many other boards have done in their whole term of office.

For many years the subject of street lamps has been spoken of but no action was taken in the matter until the present board took it in hand. They have already purchased ten lamps for the streets, and as soon as the posts can be made ready, the lamps will be erected in their proper places. They will be so arranged that they will shield their radiance to the best advantage. The lamps are large, and from their appearance we would judge that they will give good light.

Another improvement is fixing up the two lanes leading to the depot. They will be macadamized, &c.

We are to have a real guardhouse. It is to be built near the railroad, about 150 yards below the depot. Part of the lumber is now on the ground, and before commencement it will be erected.

All this shows that we have a Mayor and Board of Aldermen who may safely be trusted with public affairs, and of whom Davidson need never be ashamed.
